VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

(While the columns of THE TIMES are open for the discussion of questions of public interest, to correspondents, it must be understood that it does not necessarily endorse, nor coincide with, the sentiments expressed by writers in this column.)

School Matters—A Few Words to the Electors.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—During a residence of over twenty years in this province I have been an observer of, among other matters, the working and management of our schools. Up to the present I have been silent on this subject; but if you will kindly give me space in your valuable newspaper I will note some of the impressions formed from an uninterested stand point. I recollect that, during the sixties our schools did not receive that amount of substantial support from the government which ought to have been bestowed upon so important a constituent of our social fabric. At the same time I am of the opinion that those gentlemen composing the school board, the history of which was given in the Colonist on Saturday last, were not imbued with that quantum of enthusiasm which they ought to have possessed in shaping the future of this most important institution. It was generally understood at the time, that the teachers made rules to suit themselves and that they had more to do with the management than the proper officers. It was not until about 1872 that a change was made in this respect. I think that I am correct in stating that at a school meeting in that year, so little interest was taken in the management, that only some six persons were present. Mr. Jas. Fell was one of those elected trustees at that meeting, the number voting was, I believe, three. The new board at once set to work to establish rules for the general and better management of the schools, the rules agreed upon were not acceptable to all the teachers, and as Mr. Fell was the prime moving spirit in the reform, an attack and struggle by the disaffected has been going on ever since against that most efficient trustee. A climax in the election of trustees was reached some four years ago, at a time when some of the teachers, with the assistance of part of the trustees, came to an open rebellion. Then it was when some of the men who are now offering their services to the electors, as school trustees, brought to the polls, it is said, about 150 Chinamen to vote for their candidate, so that Mr. Alex. Wilson should be kept out of the board, Mr. Wilson being at the time some 40 to 50 in the majority. On that occasion Mr. Fell was again in the front and saved this city the disgrace of a school trustee election being carried by a horde of Mongolians against the wishes of a majority of the white voters. When it was found that the Chinese vote could not be recorded before the time for closing the polls, a row was started by the minions of the Chinese manipulators and the police had to be called upon to preserve order. Thanks to Mr. Fell, Mr. Wilson was elected. When the new board met they set to work to reform in earnest by giving notice to all teachers that they would be dismissed. However, all were reappointed, except five or six, and no doubt a great deal of the opposition to Mr. Fell has emanated from some of those discharged teachers and their friends. As far as I can see the fight seems to wax more hot. I have followed closely the criminations and recriminations which have appeared of late in the Colonist by Mr. Higgins and his friends against Mr. Fell, and by Mr. Fell in the TIMES, as answers to the attacks; and I think that all fair minded persons will agree with me in saying that, while Mr. Higgins and his friends have assailed Mr. Fell almost entirely as a business man, and on account of his religious opinions and expressions, which they say that he has made use of, Mr. Fell seemed to stick to the text of the subject in dispute, and arraigns his detractors accordingly on school irregularities. To judge Mr. Fell's record as a school trustee, after more than a decade of service, by the inability of his opponents to bring any serious charge against him while in office, is to my mind the most potent reason why Mr. Fell, if he is willing, should be sent back to the school board. That gentleman may not be right at all times; show me one who is? But those who know him best are well aware that there is not an elector in Victoria who has the advancement of our educational institutions closer to her, or his, heart than Mr. Fell.

In selecting school trustees I opine that it would be best to choose those who are least likely to be mixed up with, or who are the mouth piece of any political party. Without detracting from the position held by Mr. Higgins in this community, yet I think he ought not to step forward as a candidate for a school trustee, as it might occur that the government and the school board could not agree upon some particular and important matter. Mr. Higgins, if elected, being the editor and proprietor of the government organ, would find himself in a false position; the upshot of which would be, that the government or the electors, who sent him to the board, would "get left." PATERNAL.

Financial Notes.

The news of the capture of the leaders of the Northwest rebellion had a very assuring effect upon Canadian securities in the London market the latter part of June. The demand for this class of investments became active and values increased. Bank of British Columbia shares advanced ½ per cent, while Bank of British North America increased 2 per cent as did likewise British Columbia 6 per cents. The provincial bonds are guaranteed by the Dominion.

The price per share of the banks were quoted as follows: Bank of British Columbia, £250,000 fully-paid shares of £20, £22@23; ditto, £192,000 shares of £20, with £10 paid, £10½@11½. Bank of British North America, £1,000,000 fully-paid shares of £50, £54@56. A meeting of the Bank of British Columbia is to be held in July to declare a dividend for the half-year to June 30, the accounts to that period being subsequently posted to the shareholders. For 1883 the dividend was 7½ per cent, and for 1884, 8. Reserve, £65,000.

The accounts of the Bank of British North America up to the 31st of December last, are to be submitted at the annual meeting held this month; the dividend will then be declared.

For five years to 1881 inclusive the dividend was 5 per cent; for 1882, 1883, and 1884, the rate was 6. Reserve, £201,000.

The reserve account of the Bank of Montreal on the 30th of last April, was $3,000,000; the subscribed and paid up capital being $12,000,000. Each share is $200, the present value of which is $403 to $404.

THIS DAY'S DESPATCHES.

PREMIER SALISBURY.

Undertakes to Form a Conservative Ministry.—The Probable Members Already Named.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, June 15.—The Marquis of Salisbury has decided to form a Conservative Ministry. He is now in active negotiation with Sir Stafford Northcote, the Duke of Richmond, Lord Rawton, Mr. Rowland Wynne, M. P., for north Lincolnshire, and Mr. Edward Stanhope, M. P., for Mid-Lincolnshire. Lord Salisbury will come to London to-morrow when a consultation of the leading members of the conservative party will be held.

A court circular just issued confirms the statement that the Marquis of Salisbury has been called upon to form a new ministry.

Salisbury at Hatfield.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, June 15.—The Marquis of Salisbury spent Sunday at Hatfield. Upon his arrival at London he will at once proceed to form a ministry.

Afraid of Their Opponents.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, June 15.—The Times says Lord Salisbury has not accepted office unconditionally. Nothing will be definitely settled until the Queen's arrival. The Conservatives will require some kind of a guarantee from their opponents that they will leave the new government unmolested until after the general election.

The Thunderer Condemns the Government.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON June 15.—The Times continues to condemn the late government. It publishes a copy of the Liberal Whigs manifesto issued for to-day's formal meeting of the House of Commons and says it is precisely similar to that sent out for the crucial division of last Monday night. It says the Whigs cry "wolf" too often and by using urgent terms for trivial occasion weakens the effect of the Commons when a real crisis is at hand. The Daily Telegraph says the Marquis of Salisbury will have the sympathy of the country and warns the Radical leaders, Mr. Chamberlain and Sir Charles Dilke, not to make the mistake of obstructing the elections in the province, but to see fair play.

The Paris Races To-Day.

Special to THE TIMES.

PARIS, June 15.—The race for the grand prize of Paris took place to-day and was won by the bay colt Paradox. The summary grand prize of Paris of 100,000 francs in specie, given half by the city of Paris and half by the five great railway companies for colts and fillies foaled in 1882, of every description and country, added to sweepstakes of one thousand francs each; six hundred francs forfeit; second to receive ten thousand francs, and third five thousand francs out of the stakes, 340 subscribers. Capt. C. Bowling's bay colt Paradox, by Sterling Casusty first; Marquis DeBauthillier's ch. c. Reluisant G. Bagdad, out of Kleptomania, second; Mr. T. Jennings ch. c. Great Fire in a Coal Mine.

Special to THE TIMES.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 15.—The Dorrance shaft of the Lehigh Valley Coal Co. met with a serious accident last night which, though destructive to property, was not attended with loss of life. A workman's lamp ignited the blower of gas in the slope a short distance from the bottom of the shaft and so furiously did it burn that men were unable to safely attempt to confine the flames and were compelled to take flight. Fortunately there were two ways of escape, one by means of an air shaft, the other through a second opening. When it was found that the fire could not be extinguished by appliances at hand, the fire department was called out at midnight. The department responded promptly and began flooding the mine with water taken from the Susquehanna river, a few hundred feet from the mine. This, however, did not prove to be a very prompt extinguisher. Pumping had to be kept up all night and to-day. How long it must be continued nobody knows at present. Exploring parties were lowered into the pit last evening, but the fire was so fierce that nothing could be done by them. Present indications are that it will be several days before the fire can be extinguished. The accident will throw about 200 men out of employment for some time. The damage to the mine will be very heavy.

Stabbed to Death.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, June 15.—Dispatch from Baker in Russia says the assistant Commissioner of Police at that place was stabbed to death to-day. The assassin escaped.

Special to THE TIMES.

WINNIPEG, June 15.—News has come in this morning that 300 Indians had left their reservation at File Hills and have gone to join the Pasquis band, which is located on the Qu'Appelle lakes, above Qu'Appelle. The Ninety first battalion was sent from Fort Qu'Appelle to intercept and turn them back. It is not expected there will be anything warlike in the movement or that a collision between the Indians and the troops will occur.

Forty Rebel Prisoners En Route for Regina.

Special to THE TIMES.

WINNIPEG, June 15.—An Humboldt dispatch states that forty prisoners, taken at Batouche, consisting of eight Indians, two whites and thirty half-breeds, passed there yesterday on their way to Regina. They were under an escort of mounted police and special constables, in charge of Inspector Sanders. The escort was strengthened at Humboldt by men from the Toronto companies.

Big Bear to be Snared.

Special to THE TIMES.

ST. PAUL, June 15.—Chippewayan Mission Portage, June 11, 6 p. m., via Fort Pitt and Winnipeg to-day says: A Courier just arrived from Middleton's camp, near Loon Lake reports Big Bear heading this way, Steele's men were pressing him very hard. The river has risen several feet during the past few days, thus preventing Big Bear crossing with his stock east of this point. The Sixty-fifth battalion is three miles down the river. The timber being heavy east of there Big Bear will come in by an untraveled trail and will thus be snared.

FROM THE SELKIRKS.

Gold in all the Streams on the Slope—Immense Forest Growth.

A correspondent writing to the Montreal Herald in reference to the resources of Eastern British Columbia says: I spent the whole of last summer exploring for minerals and timber the property of the Dominion government in the forty-mile belt in the Rocky and Selkirk Mountains. I found many others prospecting for minerals, and when we compared notes, found Argentiferous Galena and copper in paying quantities all the way from the summit of the Rockies to the junction of the Kicking Horse and Columbia rivers. The assays went from $5 to $40 silver to the ton, besides copper and lead. Gold we found in the beds of all the streams running from the eastern slope of the Selkirks into the Columbia river. On Canyon Creek, lying a few miles south of the junction of the Kicking Horse and Columbia rivers, we found several parties washing gold from the bed of the creek, and making good wages. Farther down the River Columbia we found on Quartz Creek an old flume used by miners, I presume, in 1864, during the last gold excitement. There we found three mining camps, with two men in each, preparing new flumes for placer mining. They seemed jealous of intruders, but acknowledged that two of their party had a few days previously washed out $25 worth of the precious yellow metal in one day. I visited this creek yesterday and found the miners preparing for the summer's work, two of them being Montrealers, who have spent some years in the United States, mining. They state openly that the mineral prospects here, both placer and quartz, are superior to anything they have seen anywhere in their travels. Judging from appearances, we will have a mining rush this season. I will now give you an idea of the recources of this indispensable article, from the summit of the Rockies to this place. It commences at that point and increases in size as you come westward, notably so when you reach the Columbia river. It is composed of white, red, and Douglass pine, cedar, and some whitewood. The size of the trees would astonish your Ottawa lumbermen—pine and spruce 5 feet (diameter) on the stump, and 200 feet long, while many of the beams measured 8 feet. I feel sanguine that the return to the Dominion government from timber and minerals alone will, before many years, fully compensate for the expense incurred in opening up our great northwest and the construction of the Canadian Pacific railway.

Canada's Receipts and Expenditures.

Following is the statement of the revenue and expenditure on account of the Consolidated Fund of the Dominion of Canada, as by returns furnished to the Finance Department to the night of the 31st May, 1885:

Customs	$1,610,754 99
Excise	1,513,832 64
Post-office	132,529 86
Public works (including railways)	390,322 16
Miscellaneous	268,336 27
Total for May	$3,915,776 02
Revenue to 30th April, 1885	$25,717,298 01
Total revenue to 31st May	29,633,069 03
Expenditure	3,517,254 80
Do. to 30th April, 1885	24,687,618 72
Total	$28,204,873 52

The total revenue to 31st May, 1884, was $28,527,433, so that the eleven months of the present fiscal year show an increase in the revenue of $1,106,340. The revenue during May was $280,000 more than during May, 1884. The increase was altogether in excess. Public works, including railways, show an increase of $122,000, which is more than offset by a decrease of $[illegible] in revenue from customs, of $[illegible], in post office revenue, and of $[illegible] in miscellaneous receipts. The expenditure against the May last year shows a decrease of $[illegible] more than last year's corresponding period. The expenditure up to 31st May last was over $[illegible].

J. C. McLAGAN, Manager.

THE Franchise bill has now been discussed in the Commons for forty five days and nights, and the end has not yet been reached.

MONTREAL merchants demand the abolition of tolls on the St. Lawrence canals, so as to compete with the Erie canal.

A LOT of carriages imported from the United States has been seized at Ottawa, the axles being the product of prison labor.

THE coal miners of Pennsylvania will have a state convention at Pittsburg in July. Miners of other states have been invited.

MR. H. C. BEETON, the Agent-General of British Columbia, was among the guests at the annual banquet of the London Newspaper Press Fund a few evenings since.

A PROMINENT Montreal business man, just returned from the province of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, says, the unmistakable desire of the business people there is for reciprocity with the United States as a remedy for depressed business.

THE Montreal Gazette says that "the action of PRESIDENT CLEVELAND in appointing one of his political friends to the office of consul-general at Montreal in succession to MR. STEARNS, the present incumbent, will have been learned with very general regret in the city."

THE Montreal Star is one of those watch dogs that snarl viciously and growl savagely, but bite ineffectively. Its bark is the most dangerous thing about it. This is the latest: "Not content with threatening secession from the Dominion, a considerable section of the inhabitants of British Columbia are renewing agitation against the Chinese. We do not wish to sneer at any just cause of discontent which British Columbians may have, but we would respectfully ask how much the bumptious ones will take in a lump sum to settle down like peaceable Christians for a year or two? They want the Dominion out and the Chinese out, and they refer to the Canadian Pacific railway, which has put so many million dollars into their maws, as "a beggarly tramway?" They may bite off more than they can chew shortly."

AT the recent examination of the Toronto University five young ladies passed with honors in the graduation examination. They were the Misses Brown, Miss Bald, Miss Gardiner and Miss Langley. Miss Bald takes the B. A. degree, with honors in classics and the others with honors in modern languages and ethnology. The three last named have attended lectures during the past session in University college; the others have studied privately throughout their whole course. To Miss M. Brown, daughter of the late Hon. George Brown, belongs the honor of winning the gold medal in the department of modern languages and ethnology—the first distinction of the kind ever won in the provincial university by a woman.

THE Canadian Gazette, published in London, England, thus refers to the letters recently published in the Manchester Examiner, written by a lady correspondent in this city: The diction is easy, and the authoress has the enviable knack of putting her descriptions, even of every day occurrences, in such language as compels her readers to follow her to the end of her letter, and then to wish that the end had not come. With the completion of the Canadian Pacific railway, the isolation of British Columbia will cease, and it may confidently be foretold that sportsmen, tourists, and miners will swarm over the mountains and valleys of the mainland, while the more demure class and persons of delicate constitution will make their home, temporary or permanent, in Victoria, a city on a site almost unrivalled for beauty, and possessing a climate very like the south coast of England, "only better." It will be a surprise to many people, whose only idea of Canada is that of a land of snow and bears, to learn that in Victoria violets and daffodils are everywhere in full bloom in March.

THE ASYLUM OF THIEVES AND DEFAULTERS.

The Dominion has now achieved the fame of being the asylum of thieves and defaulters from the United States. If a bank cashier's books are found to be crooked, or if he has played with the funds of depositors and be missing one morning, it is at once conjectured that he has skipped to Canada. If a teller has been playing ducks and drakes with the bank's funds and is missing he is readily traced to Canada. If a swellish gentleman has succeeded in getting forged cheques or drafts cashed, and is "wanted," the hunting ground of the officers of the law for the fleeing bird is Canada. No matter what may be the effort to throw detectives off the scent, by the rumors that the culprits have gone to Europe, or South, or gone Pacific Slopewards, all the same they are first looked for in Canada. In every city, town, village or hamlet, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, American fugitives from the strong arm of the law are to be encountered. The time has arrived when the government of both Canada and the United States should enact such legislation as will remove from this country the stigma of being the refuge of the rascality of the United States. Surely the public men of the two countries could arrange an extradition treaty so wide in its slope and so equitable in its provisions that crossing the line would not increase the security of any fugitive from justice. We are quite sure that the Imperial government would give its sanction to any arrangement that the United States and Canada would come to on this very important subject. This reciprocity in rascals is a reproach to both countries.

TERRIBLE POSITION OF THE TROOPS IN THE SOUDAN.

"BURLEIGH," the special correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, in the Soudan, thus writes of the condition of the British troops in the Soudan: "Our soldiers for eight weary months have been campaigning under the most exceptionally trying circumstances. The object sought to be gained by the campaign has been irretrievably lost, and the morale of the force has, as in all armies, fallen in consequence. How have the men fared for the most part? They have borne incessant hard work—fighting, marching, digging and guard duties; in ragged clothes, worn out boots, their beds the bare ground, their abodes often a mere blanket to shade them from the noonday glare, with, latterly, ill adapted tents and a few rudely built huts of dhura stalks; their food rough soldiers' fare, tainted and fresh meat, coarse bread made from native flour, intermixed with millet grain, a pinch of compressed vegetables, with a scant dole of tea or coffee and sugar. Surrounded by a population that dislike the 'infidel' more than they fear the Mahdists, the position of our troops is terrible. Without the excitement of conflict to arouse them, quartered within the tropics, in a greater than Indian heat, without one of the comforts or appliances to make life bearable which the humblest private there enjoys, devoid of interest or faith in any proposed autumn campaign, having no longer the inspiriting cry, 'On to Khartoum,' is it any wonder that what was foretold is happening—namely, widespread sickness and death?"

CHARLES CLEVELAND, nephew of the President, wanted to be collector in Cleveland, Ohio; but his uncle wrote to him that he wasn't practising nepotism and would have to appoint JOHN H. FARLEY, who has no CLEVELAND blood in his veins.

AS WE intimated a few weeks ago would probably be the case, MR. ARCHER BAKER has been appointed European Traffic Manager for the Canadian Pacific railway. MR. BAKER, we understand, will have his headquarters in Liverpool.

ONE of the objects of PREMIER MOWAT's visit to Ottawa is said to have been the collection of information to enable him to resist a new attempt that is to be made by the Dominion government upon Ontario's territory. Having been beaten before the Privy Council, which awarded the disputed territory to Ontario, SIR JOHN has set up a new claim to the territory, because he says the Indian title, which has never been extinguished, is vested in the Dominion government.

SOME months ago the announcement was made that an immense lake of fresh water had been discovered between Lake Superior and Hudson Bay. The rumor was discredited, for nothing of its whereabouts had previously been known. Exploratory parties were sent out to make an investigation and report thereon. An Ottawa dispatch says that advices have just been received from the Dominion exploring party, now at Lake Mistassini, in the Northwest. Up to the time the dispatches left the explorers were unable to speak positively as to the dimensions of the lake, but they had little doubt it would be found to exceed in size Lake Ontario. A survey of the lake and geological inspection of the surroundings would probably be completed in August, and the expedition may return early in the fall. The country surrounding the lake had already been pronounced by the geological branch of the expedition as promising great mineral wealth, while for agricultural purposes it will be practically valueless. The lake was completely frozen over on November 20 last. For January the mean temperature at Mistassini was twelve degrees below zero, and on one occasion forty-two. All the Indians north of the height of land in this Mistassini district are nominally Christians and members of the Church of England.

A COOL TRIO.

UNDER FIRE FROM A FEDERAL "RAIL-ROAD-IRON" BATTERY.

An Ex-Confederate Tells a Story of His Experience in the Artillery Service —A Couple of Visitors in White Clothes.

[W. G. E." in Chicago Tribune.]

Last February, while in Virginia, I met with a gentleman who was in the artillery service during almost the whole of the war, being at first in field service and then shut up in mortar batteries at different places. When Petersburg was invested he, a sergeant, and his brother, a lieutenant, were in a mortar battery situated near old Blandford cemetery, his brother being in charge. Their principal duty was to fire at the Federal batteries and draw their fire. When the Confederates made a demonstration they had bomb-proofs to run into of course; but one cannot stay in a bomb-proof and fire a mortar at the same time, and, as might be supposed, they became more familiar with pyrotechnic displays than they cared for. There was one Union battery in particular that always gave them trouble whenever they fired at it. It was known as the "railroad iron" battery, and was very heavily armed. Moreover, the gunners therein had the exact range of the Blandford battery, which was twice too large, and it rarely required more than ten minutes to run the Confederates into their bomb-proof.

"One night," says Sergt. Eggleston, "we were working there in the battery firing away in different directions, but taking care to keep our hands off the railroad-iron battery, and watching the shells as they flew around, occasionally jumping into the bomb-proof when one would light in our place, when two fine-looking men, whom we all took for general officers, suddenly walked into the works. We could not tell their exact rank, because they wore white waistcoats and coats, but they looked as though they were rank officers. They walked up to George, addressed him as lieutenant, as though they knew him, and said that they had come out to see some mortar-firing, and hoped that he would accommodate them, if it was not inconvenient. George replied that he would be happy to show them any thing in that line, and turning to me, said, 'Touch up the railroad-iron battery, Joe.' Well, I wished that these chaps had stayed in their tents, but I thought that it would not be very long before they would be glad to get into the bomb-proof, and that the rest of us could go in then also. So I commenced to touch up that railroad-iron place.

"Those fellows over there seemed to know that the occasion was an unusual one, and they were determined to give us all that we could ask for. The shells were dropped into our battery like hailstones, bursting all around us, and rolling around like footballs; but there stood those two officers and George, leaning up against a piece of timber and talking as coolly as if they were leaning on a fence 1,000 miles away from a piece of artillery. A shell came along and cut that piece of timber in two, and scattered splinters all over the place; but all that they did was to lean against a fresh place to go on talking. I came to the conclusion that they liked that thing better than I did, and I told one of the gunners to shift his gun around and play on something else, and pretty soon I shifted another, and the fire gradually died down. I knew that George would stand there and be shot at till the crack of doom before he would suggest anything about bomb-proofs, and the other chaps didn't want to say anything unless he did. Well, they talked on for ten or fifteen minutes after the fire died down, and then said that they would like to go on to the skirmish line and see what was going on there, if he would show them the way. He told them to go out of the battery on a certain side and follow the path; they could not miss the skirmish line. They left after expressing their thanks for our kindness, but they did not say what their names were, and George was too polite to ask them.

"Now the funny part of it comes in. The next day George tried to find out who they were, but none of our officers had been out there. The fact is, I don't believe that any of our officers had any white clothes to wear, and if George had only thought a minute he might have known that none of them would be roaming around at night to see mortar-firing; they could stay in camp and get enough of that. But he could not find out who those men were, though every effort was made, as the thing began to get mysterious.

"About two years ago, or longer, George was on an Ohio river steamboat talking to a man in the saloon, when a gentleman came up and said: 'Are you not the lieutenant who was in command of a mortar-battery near Blandford cemetery at Petersburg?' 'Yes,' he answered. 'And don't you remember two officers coming to your battery one night and saying that they had come out to see some mortar firing?' 'Yes; and I have been looking for them ever since.'

"'Well, I am one of them; I am Gen. ——, of the Union army at that time, and my companion was Gen. ——, also of the Union army.' 'I am very glad to meet you,' said Lieut. Eggleston, 'but if I had known who you were at that time you would not be talking to me now.' 'So I knew, then,' was the reply. 'We did start out to see mortar firing; just as I told you, and we also intended to go on to the skirmish line. But we got into the wrong battery. You remember that our skirmish line ran up to what was a marsh when we first got to Petersburg, and that it really pointed behind your line. Well, we got to the end of our line at the marsh, but it had dried up, and after we had wandered around there for a while, confused by the shells flying in different directions, we suddenly found ourselves right at your battery. We sat there in the ditch for almost two hours, wondering what we could do, we could hear every word that your men said. Had we been in uniform we should have gone right in and surrendered; but we knew that our white clothes would be taken as disguises, and that we would have been arrested as spies. 'Undoubtedly,' said Lieut. E. 'So we concluded to go in and pretend that we were all right, but without telling our names. After we got out of your battery we went back to our lines easily enough. While we were standing there talking to you we were getting our bearings so as to get back. I have thought of that night a thousand times, and wondered if I would ever meet that lieutenant who made us stand under the fire of our own batteries for half an hour without saying a word about bomb-proofs. And as soon as I heard your voice I thought that I recognized the one that said "Touch up the railroad-iron battery, Joe."'"

Tupper's Favorite.

Martin Farquhar Tupper is not only very poor, but is very much in debt, and is daily pestered with dunning creditors, whom he manages to meet with his "Proverbial philosophy."

The banking capital of the United States to-day is $[illegible],000,000.

THE LOST LAND.

There is a story of a beautiful land,
Where fields were fertile and where flowers were bright,
Where tall towers glistened in the morning light;
Where happy children wandered hand in hand,
Where lovers wrote their names upon the sand.
They say it vanished from all human sight;
The hungry sea devoured it in a night.
You doubt the tale? Ah! you will understand;
For, as men muse upon that fable old
They give sad credence always at the last,
However they have cavilled at its truth,
When with a tear-dimmed vision they behold
Swift sinking in the ocean of the Past
The lovely lost Atlantis of their Youth.

Naval Service in Shallow Streams.

[China Cor. Globe-Democrat.]

The naval service of the delta, with its many hundred miles of shallow channel, is done by seven or eight small gunboats of peculiar pattern and half a dozen steam launches, each carrying a Hotchkiss (French, Oahkees) gun, and manned by six or eight sailors. The gunboats are called cannoniers. They are nearly all of them of the same pattern, broad, flat-bottomed, and not drawing more than three feet of water, even when heavily loaded. The idea is a peculiarly American one, borrowed entirely from the little shallow steamers that have for the last half century nearly been running on the upper waters of the Ohio, Mississippi, and Missouri, and more directly from the tin-clads that did such excellent service during the rebellion.

The boilers are in front, protected by a thin steel plating sufficient to turn any fire to be expected from hostile forces in the delta. The engines are aft, and similarly protected. The quarters of the officers are amidships, or, if the pattern is varied, wherever convenience dictates. The armament is usually two medium steel guns forward on a revolving platform, with a range of two miles, the gunners being protected by semi-circular steel plates at the edges of the platform, and two or three Hotchkiss guns at the sides or on a mast guarded in similar fashion. The wheels at the stern are sometimes masked by broad plates of steel, a continuation of the plating of the sides. The small-arm is the Mauser rifle, a heavy weapon, but considered by the French the most efficient. These vessels are all painted gray. They were built in France, brought out in pieces and put together either at Saigon or Haiphong.

Morocco Prisons Life.

[Tangiers Letter.]

We went to the prisons, and looking through some huge doors of iron gratings into large halls—caverns they appeared like—saw scores of abject looking prisoners of all ages making baskets and straw goods. Seeing us, a number of them came running to the iron gratings and began begging for money or tobacco.

In a room near the prisons we were shown where they whipped convicts for insubordination, and also those whom the bashaw had found guilty of petty crimes. From appearances there must have been an immense amount of this terrible punishment inflicted in this room during the centuries of the past. I was told that the prisoner was first stripped naked, and then stretched out on the floor, four muscular Arabs holding his hands and feet, while the unmerciful "cat o'nine-tails" was being applied to his back. The oaken floor was worn deep and smoothly polished by the strugglings and writhings of the tortured victims under the cruel lash.

One of the guides got the "cat"—an ugly relic of past barbarism—and showed it to me. It consisted of several thick lashes of rawhide, about thirty inches long, attached to a stout oaken handle of the same length. I observed that the lashes were stained with blood, and the same red stains could be seen spattered about the floor and walls. As I appeared to take much interest in the room and in listening to the details of the punishment, the guides volunteered to the consul to go out and get a prisoner and have him whipped before me, probably thinking it would be an interesting spectacle for me to witness, but I energetically declined the kind offer.

The Cochineal.

[Inter Ocean.]

The cochineal used to be an extensive article of commerce and brought a revenue of several millions to Guatemala every year, but the cheapness of the aniline dyes has driven it out of the market, and nowadays it is cultivated only for local consumption, and extensively used by the natives, whose cotton and woolen fabrics are gayly dyed, and the colors will stand any amount of water or sun.

The cochineal is a larvæ which feeds upon the pulpy leaf of that species of cactus known as the "nopal," and in its natural state looks like frost or mold. The natives carefully scrape it off into gourds, and the cells being full of purple blood it makes a liquid of the deepest color, when the mass is crushed. For 200 years it was the base of dye stuffs all over the world, and thousands of people were engaged in its cultivation. Until 18.0 the shipments from Guatemala amounted to 300,000 or 400,000 pounds each year, but in 1884 the export had fallen to 1,800 pounds.

Promoting Small Farms.

[London Correspondence.]

The schemes of a "Small Farm Company" in England is already assuming definite shape. The general scope of the company will be to buy up land and to re-sell it in small parcels by a system of annual payments. In so doing the company will, it is hoped, meet the particular wants of several classes of people—such, for instance, as the following: (1) Communities of agricultural laborers, each of whom would own separate plots, but who would be able to use horses, plows, etc., in common. (2) Small farmers, willing to farm holdings of not more than thirty acres. (3) Tradesmen and other immigrants from neighboring towns wishing to add to their resources by various kinds of petite culture, market gardening, bee keeping, poultry breeding, and the like. It is an excellent scheme, and its progress deserves to be watched with close and practical interest.

Anti-Dyspepsia Diet.

[Cincinnati Commercial.]

In a lecture entitled "From Anvil to Pulpit," Rev. Robert Collyer says: "My father had $4.50 a week to keep his family on, and we got along with surprising regularity. I was the eldest of the family of children, and was always glad of that. At that time provisions were not nearly so cheap as now; there were no cheap schools, and the schools then were not very common, and such as they were you had to pay for them. Yet that good mother made that income stand good enough for all. We lived on oatmeal and milk in plenty, with just a bit of meat when we could get hold of it; a mug of tea and white bread on Sundays, brown bread the rest of the time. My mother would make soup on Sundays, and would say to us boys, 'Now, boys, he who drinks the most soup shall have the most meat.' We would drink as much as we could carry, then she would say, 'Well, you can't eat any more; we will save the meat until to-morrow.' With such a training as this it is no wonder that I hardly know what you mean by indigestion."

Symphonies and Nocturnes.

[Norristown Herald.]

A "crazy quilt show" is being held in Boston. Most of the visitors mistake the articles on exhibition for specimens of Whistler's "arrangements" in black and white, "harmonies" in blue, and "nocturnes" in red and green.

Listen to Your Wife.

The Manchester GUARDIAN, June 8th, 1882, says: At one of the "Windows" Looking on the woodland ways!" With clumps of rhododendrons and great masses of May blossoms!!" There was an interesting group. It included one who had been a "Cotton spinner," but was now so "Paralyzed!!!" That he could only bear to lie in a reclining position. This refers to my case. I was Attacked twelve years ago with "Locomoter Ataxy" (A paralytic disease of nerve fibre rarely over cured) and was for several years barely able to get about. And for the last Five years not able to attend to my business, although Many things have been done for me The last experiment being Nerve stretching. Two years ago I was voted into the Home for Incurables! Near Manchester, in May, 1882. I am no "Advocate"; "For anything in the shape of patent" Medicines? And made many objections to my dear wife's constant urging to try Hop Bitters, but finally to pacify her— Consented!! I had not quite finished the first bottle when I felt a change come over me. This was Saturday November 26. On Sunday morning I felt so strong I said to my room companions, "I was sure I could "Walk! So started across the floor and back. I hardly knew how to contain myself. I was all over the house. I am gaining strength each day, and can walk quite a fe without any "Stick!" Or Support. I am now at my own house, and hope soon to be able to earn my own living again. I have been a member of the Manchester 'Royal Exchange' For nearly thirty years, and was most heartily congratulated on going into the room on Thursday last. Very gratefully yours. JOHN BLACKBURN.

HIGH HANDED ACT.

Never before in the history of this city was a more contemptible or disgraceful act perpetrated than the attempt made by the returning officer to-day to disfranchise MR. WILLIAM DALBY as a candidate for the position of school trustee for Johnson Street Ward. MR. MALLANDAINE may have acted strictly in accordance with his instructions, but it is a matter of uncertainty as to whether it was competent for him under the circumstances to declare any of the candidates elected. MR. DALBY's name had been canvassed for some days by many of his friends, and he was urgently solicited to become a candidate. Reluctantly at last he consented, and in doing so was very particular that his name should be registered according to the act. His own name, along with that of others, he deposited with the Sheriff some two weeks since, and by him to be deposited with the proper officers in the education office. It was a surprise to Mr. DALBY to hear that his name had been omitted; but greater still was the astonishment with which the announcement was received when the returning officer stated that he was aware of the omission and that he was instructed to say nothing about the matter till after 12 o'clock, when it would be too late to enable MR. DALBY to rectify the matter.

MR. Dalby's friends, as well as all who desire to see fair play accorded every one, are naturally indignant at the contemptible trick of omitting his name from the voters' list. The matter is one that demands a thorough and searching investigation. The grounds for suspicion that the names were tampered with by some of the officials when preparing the list are extremely strong, for it is a fact that MR. D. W. HIGGINS boastingly remarked on Saturday that his election was secure beyond a doubt. May it not be possible that he as well as others on that side were aware of the fact that the name of MR. DALBY did not appear on the list for either Johnson or Yates Street Ward? The statement made by the returning officer gives color to this impression, for it is evident that the omission was noticed, known to some and discussed and Mr. MALLANDAINE accordingly instructed how to act. It will now be in order for that gentleman to state from whom he received his instructions. Nay, the people have a right to demand the names and they must be given.

LATER—MR. DALBY has further enquired into the matter of his name not having been put on the voters list, and finds that the names of MESSRS. L. VIGELIUS and A. VIGELIUS were also left off. It has been agreed by the authorities to place all of those gentlemen on the list to-day by their making certain affidavits, which will enable MR. DALBY to contest the election as a candidate for trustee in Johnson Street Ward.

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—Seven patients in the Nanaimo hospital.

—The fire department will picnic on Dominion Day.

—The Satellite left Esquimalt yesterday morning for Acapulco.

—Bishop Sillitoe preached in Trinity church, Seattle yesterday.

—The Eliza Anderson brought sixty passengers from Seattle yesterday.

—John Robinson's Menagerie and Circus will show in this city about the first week in August.

—The Geo. W. Elder, which arrived yesterday morning, brought 815 tons of freight, 382 of which were for Victoria, 276 for Seattle and remainder for other Sound ports.

—The ladies of the Y. W. C. T. U. will hold their annual meeting to-night in Temperance Hall. Reports will be read and addresses, etc., given. All are invited to attend.

—The Berlin Ladies' Orchestra again played to a small house on Saturday evening. The performance was excellent. It is difficult to account for the small patronage extended to this troupe on any other ground than bad management. The proprietor's penuriousness would kill the best enterprise of the kind on the continent.

—There is a probability, we are informed, that the two principals in the recent divorce case, will bridge the chasm that has been dividing them for some time past, and forgiving and forgetting (particularly the latter) live happily together in the future as though nothing had ever happened to mar the serenity of their lives. So mote it be.

—The Moosomin Courier of the 4th inst., says that upwards of 300 navvies passed west on Saturday night to join the army of workers on the C. P. R. for the completion of the line through to British Columbia. The company have upwards of 5000 men employed and intend completing the road by the 1st of August. This looks like business.

—The Seattle Chronicle says that the handsome schooner Challenge, just built by Messrs. Allen & Brazen, was launched on Saturday. She cuts a fine appearance in the water. She was built for Messrs. Douglass Bros., of Victoria. She is forty-five tons burthen, measures 60 feet keel, six feet clearance in hold and seventy feet beam.

—The damage done to the tug Tacoma by the collision with the ship Blue Jacket was considerable. It will cost four or five thousand dollars to place her in as good condition as she was before the accident. The shock broke the holding-down bolts to the engine, and threw it out of gear, and also started some joints in the boiler, besides bending the main steam pipe, and breaking some of the smaller pipes. It will take a month or more to properly repair the tug which is now at Seattle.

New Westminster Trustees.

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES.

NEW WESTMINSTER, June 15.—The election for school trustees was held here to-day and the result was the election by acclamation of the following gentlemen for St. George Ward: J. S. Clute and Wm. Johnson; St. Patrick Ward—J. A. Calbick and G. Pittendrigh; St. Andrews Ward—P. J. Trapp and W. R. Ross.

To the Electors of Johnson Street Ward.

Remember that Mr. William Dalby is still in the field as a candidate, and solicites your votes to-morrow.

THE BASE BALL MATCH.

A Victory for the Reds—A Pleasant Game.

The second game of base ball for the season between the Reds of Seattle, and the Amities, of Victoria, was played on Saturday, at the Driving Park grounds, Seattle. A large number of Victorians accompanied our players, on the Anderson, and witnessed the game along with about five hundred of the citizens of Seattle. Two excursion trains, one leaving at 2 and the other at 2:45 p. m., carried the spectators and players to the field, which was about four miles out. A large number of ladies graced the occasion with their presence; and took a lively interest in the sport. Game was called shortly after three o'clock by the umpire, A. B. Ensign, the Amities winning the toss and sending the Reds to the bat. The contest from the start was in favor of the Reds, who made four runs in the first innings to one for the Amities. The superior catching of Burwell, a new man impressed into service for the occasion, was the special feature of the game. He played behind the bat during the nine innings, without having a passed ball. Early in the game Wooten, catcher for the Amities, received a severe knock on the thumb, which seriously interfered with his work, but he stood manfully to his post till the sixth innings, when he was compelled to give place to Gowen. Good feeling existed throughout the game, and the spectators applauded good playing on both sides. The result was a severe defeat to our boys, who are, however, in no way disheartened or afraid to again try conclusions with their opponents. The Reds had strengthened their nine, as they had an undoubted right to do if the new members are bona fide residents of that place, and to this fact is due in a large measure the defeat of the Amities. Our players have only Victoria to draw from, and don't want outside aid. Considerable money changed hands on the result, the greater portion of which, the Post says, was bet among the citizens of Seattle. The following is the Present Condition of C. P. R.

Mr. James Ross, Superintendent of Construction, who has arrived in Ottawa, says that the C. P. R. has been completed to within ten miles of the summit of the Selkirks, and that only seventy miles of the contract this side of Onderdonk's remain to be finished. At present there are 5000 men at work on the railway, 1000 having been sent out within the last ten days, and inside a month 2000 more will be forwarded. The C. P. R. is now being operated to the first crossing of the Columbia river—a distance of 1025 miles. Not many months will elapse before a train will run from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Shadows of a Great City.

The Baldwin Theater Company will appear at Philharmonic Hall next Monday evening, for that night only, in the latest great success, "Shadows of a Great City," by Shewell and Jefferson, the authors of several successful plays. It is a most interesting and exciting melodrama and ran for six weeks at the Baldwin Theater to immense business. Messrs. Lewis Morrison, George Osbourne, L. R. Stockwell, supported by the powerful company embraced in the original cast will appear. The company bring their own scenery and will present the play with all attention to details.

Mechanics Literary Institute.

We are glad to observe as will be seen by our advertising columns, that the Institution is bringing its advantages prominently before the public. Such an Institution with its admirable supply of instructive matter in reading room and library, is a credit to our city. It is a mint for coinage of good thoughts, good expressions, and wholesome aspirations, and if our citizens do not avail themselves of its advantages when they can be secured at such moderate terms it will be through no fault of the Mechanics Literary Institute.

"Peck's Bad Boy."

If an immense audience and the mildest demonstration of applause be the test of a dramatic success, the performance of "Peck's Bad Boy" last evening at the Arch street Opera House, by Atkinson's Comedy company, must be recognized as a decisive popular hit. The building was crowded in every part, even to the aisles and stairways, by a throng whose outbursts of laughter were continuous enough to interrupt and retard the performance in almost every scene.—Philadelphia Press.

Victoria's Contribution.

It may interest those among us in Victoria who subscribed towards the Northwest Volunteers relief fund, lately raised here, to know that Hon. C. E. Hamilton, mayor of Winnipeg, has duly acknowledged the receipt thereof; and also giving a statement of the disposal of the money sent from here. In his letter he says: "We are using the fund to defray funeral expenses, assist the families of some of the fallen, and provide for the wounded."

No. 3 Battery, R. C. Garrison Artillery.

J. NICHOLLES, Captain.

Superintendent of Police O'Connor.

Mr. W. F. O'Connor, a few years ago Superintendent of Police in this city, has been appointed to the captaincy of the Queen's Own, a new company recently organized in Honolulu.

Intemperance of Provincial Police.

A telegram from Ottawa says that holders of Dominion licenses have given up the idea of fighting the province, and will stop selling liquor. Their counsel advised them in this direction.

NOMINATION OF TRUSTEES.

Contests in Every Ward—Sharp Practice by an Official.

The nomination of candidates for trustees was held to-day in the several wards of the city. There was not very much interest manifested in the proceedings and few electors assembled at the respective places for meeting.

JAMES BAY.

Mr. Dennis R. Harris was nominated by Mr. J. S. Stannard, seconded by Mr. W. Shears.

Mr. R. B. McMicking, nominated by Mr. A. J. Smith, seconded by Mr. William Newburry.

Mr. Alex. Wilson, nominated by Mr. John Finlayson, seconded by Mr. George Morrison.

YATES STREET WARD.

Mr. James Fell, nominated by Mr. R. T. Williams, seconded by Mr. J. G. Walker.

Mr. Chas. Hayward, nominated by Mr. G. Stelly seconded by Mr. Jos. Wrigglesworth.

Mr. John Braden, nominated by Mr. T. J. Burnes, seconded by Mr. C. Pardoe.

Mr. C. E. Redfern, nominated by Mr. F. Page, seconded by Mr. J. Kurtz.

JOHNSON STREET WARD.

Mr. William Dalby, nominated by Mr. J. W. Williams and seconded by Mr. L. Vigelius.

Mr. D. W. Higgins, nominated by Mr. F. Van Horst and seconded by Mr. Geo. Rudge.

Mr. Coote M. Chambers, nominated by Mr. Thos. Partridge, seconded by Mr. L. Fee.

At five minutes past 12 o'clock the returning officer, Mr. E. Mallandaine, declared the poll closed and that Messrs. D. W. Higgins and Coote M. Chambers were the elected trustees for the year. This announcement took every one present, excepting a few, who, no doubt, were let into the secret by surprise. Mr. Dalby asked the returning officer his reason for declaring the poll closed and the gentlemen named elected. The returning officer replied that Mr. Dalby's name was not on the list of voters in his hands. Mr. Dalby then intimated that possibly his name might be on another list, that for Yates street ward.

The returning officer—Mr. Dalby's name is not on either list. I am aware of that for I examined them before going to the nomination meeting.

Mr. Dalby—Why then did you not tell me of the fact before this? When I was nominated you should have told me that my name was not on the list.

The returning officer—I was instructed to say nothing about the matter till after 12 o'clock.

Mr. Dalby—This is the most petty and contemptible trick ever perpetrated in this or any other community. I protest againt the decision of the returning officer and hereby notify him to that effect.

Those present received Mr. Dalby's remarks with applause.

PERSONAL MENTION

Chas. M. McNaughten, jeweler of New Westminster, is in the city and will remain a short time for medical treatment.

Hon. A. C. Elliott, C. Morton and T. Elwyn, of Victoria, were registered at the Arlington, Seattle, on Saturday.

Messrs. L. A. Morgenstern and J. C. Weir are in the city arranging for the production of "Shadows of a Great City" by the Baldwin Theatre Co., on the 22d inst.

Mr. Chandler, of San Francisco, who is interested in coal mines at Nanaimo, was at the Driard last night, and left for the Black Diamond city this morning.

Mr. R. T. Gilbert, a wealthy Englishman, arrived by the Elder yesterday, and is stopping at the Driard. He will spend the summer in British Columbia hunting and enjoying himself generally.

MARINE NOTES.

Bark Southern Chief, Capt. Ross, arrived at Seattle from San Francisco on Saturday night, making the passage in 19 days. She goes to Departure Bay to load coal for San Francisco.

Brutal Conduct.

Two Chinamen were cruelly beaten on the Craigflower road yesterday by, it is presumed, two white men. When found they were lying on the side of the road, their heads and bodies badly battered and bruised, and dry clotted blood covering their faces and garments. Jailor Hutchinson and his assistant, on being notified, proceeded to the spot and brought the injured men to town, and they are still in the gaol. Dr. Milne examined their wounds and attended to their wants. The ear of one of them is so badly smashed that it is quite improbable that he will ever hear through it again, and the other one complains of severe internal pains at his side. A description of the suspected parties led to the arrest of two young men, Leclair and Marwick, and they were arrested and locked up for the night. This morning they appeared before Justice McLean, who remanded them until to-morrow morning. The two Chinamen present a pitiful spectacle to-day. There is little doubt that they were hammered over the heads with their own poles, one of those sticks, covered with blood, having been found near the spot. The attack, if unprovoked, was a most brutal one, and the perpetrators richly deserve the most severe punishment the law provides. We believe that the "Chinese must go," but not in that way—or at least not just yet.

Sudden Death.

A man named Brown, familiarly known as "Gentleman" Brown, of Happy Valley, was found dead in bed this morning. Superintendent Boycott went out to investigate. Deceased is well connected in England, and has relatives living at Bolton Hall, Yorkshire. We did not learn the particulars of his death, or whether an inquest will be deemed necessary.

Chinese Regulation Act.

In appeal against the conviction by Mr. E. Johnson, under the Chinese Regulation Act, an application was made today in the Supreme Court for a rule nisi to compel the Attorney-General to show cause why the conviction should not be set aside. The application was granted and the case will be argued next week upon the return of the Attorney-General from the mainland.

LICENSING BOARD.

Regular Meeting—Large Number of Transfers Effected.

At the regular quarterly meeting of the Licensing Board to-day, there were present: Mayor Rithet and Messrs. E. Johnson, S.M., McLean and Morrison.

R. P. Dillon, of the St. Nicholas Hotel, applied for the transfer of his license to Joseph Vernon and John Cartney. Granted.

Frank Worth and John McGee applied for Palace saloon license to be transferred to R. Borthwick. Granted.

An application from A. B. McIntyre, for a license for the Gordon Hotel, on Johnson street, was refused on the ground that there are already a number of licensed houses in that neighborhood and the policy of the board is averse to unnecessarily increasing places of this kind.

A transfer of the Commercial Hotel license from Johnson & VanAllman to Van Alman & Son was granted.

Joseph Vernor applied for a transfer of the Snug Tavern license from the late holder, now deceased, to himself. Refused.

In the Senate Saloon license there were two applications. B. P. Pettengill applied to have it transferred to H. L. Tibballs, and Amos Vader put in another application for a new license in his own name. Pettengill and Vader had been partners, the former owning a three-fourth interest and the latter one-fourth, but the license was in Pettengill's name. Pettengill had since sold his interest to Tibballs, and Vader had recently secured a lease of the premises in his own right. A Philadelphia lawyer would be required to unravel the snarl, and the Board wisely declared that if the applicants were willing to take a license in their joint names, it would be so ordered; otherwise the license would be cancelled. The decision was accepted by both sides.

W. K. Farlinger applied to have the Bee Hive saloon license transferred to J. S. Cowie. Granted.

Thomas Nicholson's application to transfer license to Thomas Nicholson, Wm. Carter, and Allan Muirhead, was granted.

Andrew Bechtell applied for a transfer of the California saloon from Dougherty & Savage. Granted.

D. F. Fee applied for a new license for a saloon at the corner of Quadra and North Park streets. A petition against granting the application, having 106 names attached, was also read. The board, in the face of the large petition and the decision that no new licenses should be granted, refused the application.

T. D. Sears and L. J. Cross applied for a license for the Pavilion Skating Rink, Fort street, which they propose converting into a theatre comique. Application refused.

In the matter of the license to the Albion hotel, Herald street, laid over since last meeting, John Wilson asked to have it transferred to Clements & Co. Granted.

A complaint was read from Geo. A. Newman about the manner in which the Royal Exchange saloon is being conducted. Supt. Bloomfield said that there had been a number of complaints recently, but Mr. Walls, for the keeper of the saloon, said the noise was solely due to the woman of the house, who was subject to fits of hysteria. Complaint to be heard next Monday at 12 o'clock.

The license to the saloon on Government and John streets was transferred from Geo. E. Smith to Edward Legg permanently.

Before adjourning, Mayor Rithet called attention to the prevalence of gambling in the city. He had received a large number of anonymous letters, complaining that such a state of things existed. The Superintendent of Police should know, and he had waited for the present opportunity to bring the matter forward.

Superintendent Bloomfield said he was in the same position, and had also received a number of anonymous letters. Officers have been detailed to watch suspected places and every effort made possible to suppress gambling. He believed, however, that there was a good deal of it going on in the city, and in some respectable places too. He had heard of instances where as much as $500 had been lost in one night. If the parties writing these annoymous letters would complain in person, and help the police, something more might be done to stamp out the evil complained of.

The Mayor hoped that now that attention had been called to it, the evil would be stamped out, and that the police would use their best endeavors in that direction.

The Board then adjourned for one week.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Edwin Johnson, Esq., S. M.)

Fred. Rogers drunk and sleeping on sidewalk; fined $5 or one week.

Ah Hin, leaving horse untied on Fort street; fined $2.50.

In the cases of the hackmen and expressmen, charged with leaving their horses untied and unattended on Wharf street, the magistrate said that he had reluctantly come to the conclusion that he would not convict, as the prosecution was brought under the wrong by-law. The defendants were discharged.

Ah Wing, charged with supplying an Indian with liquor, pleaded guilty and was fined $50, or three months. Prisoner is only five months out of the penitentiary, where he was sent for larceny.

Ah Sue, alias Ah Loy, an old offender, supplying a Saanich Indian named Jack with liquor, pleaded guilty; fined $50 or three months.

Jack, the recipient of the liquor in the above case, was charged with being in possession of an intoxicant, pleaded guilty, and was fined $25 or one month at hard labor.

Chipps, an Indian, in possession of an intoxicant, pleaded guilty and was fined $25. A collection was immediately taken up among the friends of Chipps, and the fine was paid.

John Burgess assaulting special officer Conner, was discharged on payment of costs.

Ah Ching, obstructing the street and sidewalk, by cutting wood on Sunday; fined $2 and costs.

Wm. C. DeLong and Henry Hondola, breaking into the room of Joseph Grander at the Colonial Hotel and stealing the sum of 50c, on the night of the 13th.

Court adjourned till 2 p. m.

Seizure of the Hope.

The Post-Intelligencer says that the steamer Hope, owned by Mr. Sayward, of this city, was seized at Semiahmoo on Friday last by Deputy Collector Frank Winslow. The charge is that the steamer had been there thirty-six hours and had connection with the shore several times without having conformed to the customs regulations. Captain Bentley claimed that he went there in distress. The deputy took charge of the vessel on behalf of the United States, and securing the services of Captain Davis, late of the Evangel, left Semiahmoo at 5 p. m. Friday for Port Townsend, handing her over to the Collector there on arrival. For offences of this character the penalty is a fine of $1000, which the Collector will probably impose. A representative of THE TIMES called of Mr. Sayward's office to-day in reference to above, and was informed that there was no other information to impart than what is contained in above.
